Katie's practice at BB&L focuses on regulatory consulting and defense of complex health care litigation claims for health care clients, including individual practitioners, private practice clinics, and multi-facility health systems. As the Director of Revenue Cycle Policy for a not-for-profit health care organization, Katie gained an in-depth knowledge of medical billing practices, escalated payer disputes, Medicaid and Medicare reimbursement requirements, balance billing restrictions, and charity care obligations. Katie also worked with outside counsel to prepare defense strategies, respond to litigation discovery requests, and facilitated a class action claim settlement process. After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts from Washington State University, Katie received her Juris Doctor from the Gonzaga University School of Law.
