Stephanie is a Washington and Idaho attorney dedicated to the defense of healthcare providers and medical institutions in civil lawsuits, including medical negligence and wrongful death actions. In addition, she represents healthcare professionals in administrative actions with the Washington Medical Commission, the Idaho Board of Medicine, and other professional licensing boards.

Stephanie attended Gonzaga University School of Law with specific intent to defend medical malpractice cases. Since her second year of law school, Stephanie has received continuous direct mentorship with seasoned medical malpractice defense trial attorneys as both a legal intern, and as an associate immediately following admission to the Washington State Bar Association in 2024. She has provided substantial trial support for one Washington State wrongful death action, and one Idaho wrongful death and medical malpractice actions. She recently provided second chair trial assistance in the Eastern District for the State of Washington in a wrongful death and medical malpractice action. Further, Stephanie has successfully argued both dispositive and procedural Motions, represented clients in the Idaho Pre-litigation Screening process, and functioned as local counsel in both Washington and Idaho.
